Showcase description

About us: We are two young Mirko Sgaggio and Giulia Menti ... creative, full of ideas and a little time. In 2008 was born our passion to create furniture or objects from recycled materials. Often we hear about eco-design, our stands as it is made entirely from recycled materials. The cardboard tubes, wood and fabrics are all waste industries in the area, nothing has been produced for tubimania. Why tubimania? This name comes from my obsession with tubes and cardboard that day I saw discard the farm where my dad worked. Thus began the attempts of assembling of this material, in the image collective little resistant, not adapted to withstand considerable loads. Instead revealing super-durable and modular. The result is everything on this site! www.tubimania.it What we do: Tubimania creates design objects with industrial waste materials, especially textiles. The intention is to act recovering the materials composing them in space and giving new function. Tubimania intervenes in terms of ready-made, decontextualizing the industrial waste and rivalutandolo as design through creativity. The utility is the possibility of the objects of everyday products, from sitting at the light, easy to use and comfortable. The structure of the object is the material of choice that does not hide, but in accordance with its structural function and pure form showing his experience. Our eco design differs from others because it is entirely made with recycled materials from the textile, first of all the multilayer cardboard, then wood and fabric.
