Showcase description

I am an Italian artist, I graduated from the School of Art in Cagliari, specializing in graphic design. I have worked for some years as a graphic designer and learning more experience in the digital art I have created my own style mixing illustration, photography and painting creating a union of techniques that characterizes me. I have had my first personal art exhibition in 2008 in Italy, frequently continuing to participate in international exhibitions, events and artistic projects. With this broad artistic vision I like to support my clients by drawing their visions and projects for them.
