Showcase description

Let's see, man i'm a geek first and foremost. You can choose how you want to define that. My sense of humor is rather extensive, ranging from corny/quaint to grandiose/paradoxical (whatever that really means), you know... like my best friend Dylan. I have to say i love life and i don't know where i'd be without the people i surround myself with. Music = life. I'm obsessed. I wish i could say graphic design and the fashion world are my job but alas it's a hobby, or maybe a spiritual adventure, probably both...my favorite thing to do in the whole wide friggin world is be on top of Colorado mountains under a full moon listening to some of the best djs i've heard, to travel around the world and... i think that experience in my life is always a little bit less as i really want. But I don't believe that a few words can explain what I am.
