Showcase description

I'm Tobia Polese Mind, hands, body and soul are the essential elements of my work. "Communication is the essential tool to conquer the world." I am a creative with a previous years experience in the field, mine experience give me the ability to highlight and make available my technical skills, my creative skills in the field of visual communication, fashion system and art. I work strong autonomously but also very well in the team, the comparison and the agreements from briefing and budget analysis are the two essential elements to start a project through the use of communication tools studied with style, taste and creativity to meet the needs of each customer.
