Showcase description

Silvia Colombo was born in Italy, between Lake Como and Milan, in 1978, where she lives and works with her family. Graduated from art school, she completed her education at the Arte & Messaggio School of the Milan castle. Since primary school, her dream has always been becoming an illustrator and being able to illustrate fairy tales and stories, to enchant adults and children with the magic of colour. She gained a foothold in children's illustration (narrative and school books), by collaborating with several children magazines and publishing for a lot of publishers. Some of her books have been translated in different languages and published in various countries.
