Showcase description

Hello, For years working in the field of multimedia communications and video productions, mainly as a freelance filmmaker . They are constantly in contact with the customer and always try to follow his "vision" in terms of technical and creative , I try to imagine something more all 'inside of each product, through the language of film , which is always appreciated , and not just an end in himself ; This determines the fact that they are certainly capable of handling all the production processes at both technical and human , always taking into consideration the interests of the customer and his demands creative conditioned by the available budget. For years, I work alone , and with a video service for major works (Ariadrone Ltd) . I am looking for an ongoing collaboration and point to customer retention . I try not to think immediately to profit, otherwise he would probably project a contrived, but the sheer creativity , after that suited my idea to the technical processes of production and limited or no budget available . I would like to take into consideration the proposal of a possible collaboration . I leave my contacts and link to the site : For clarification or questions +39 3201155787 e- mail: nadir_communication@libero.it link: http://ariadrone.com/video.html Loris Nadir Marinoni
