Showcase description

www.chiararoscini.com http://www.celesteprize.com/member/idu:47100/ Since childhood I have shown signs of a clear aptitude for drawing and especially for portraiture. Everybody said that the powers of expression of small representations of people it was pretty amazing. Reached high school I began to frequent the art studio of Nello Palloni, who died a few years ago. In a short time, I became his assistant and collaborator. With him I realized, among the many private works, reproduction of "Madonna and Child with stories of the Passion of Christ" by the Master of Farneto, currently exposed in Farneto convent, where she had placed the original, now in the National Gallery of Umbria. I also learned the basic techniques of restoration, particularly of paintings on canvas. Currently still working on commission, and I am especially portraiture. As oil technique remains my favorite, I use almost all the techniques of painting and illustration. I have a decent education in the field of computer graphics, with a good knowledge of CorelDraw Graphics Suite and Corel Painter, and Manga Studio. My art is evolving, while remaining faithful to figurative art, I begin to experiment with new forms of expression, in search of the most effective way to capture everything I see with my eyes and everything my mind reworks.
