Showcase description

I'm Marianna Masciandaro: journalist and web editor with a passion for social media and new forms of digital communication. I have gained my experience in some journalistic newsrooms writing of news, current events, entertainment, sport, health. I have developed a good training in press offices of major companies. For two years I'm working for the press office Pirelli. I like writing, I have a blog where I review restaurants in Milan: fornellibollenti.wordpress.com I'm graduated at the Faculty of Communication Sciences with a degree in Performing Arts and multimedia production with 110/110 cum laude. I'm self-confident, dynamic, resourceful and always looking for new ideas and challenges to grow.
