Showcase description

My name is Marco Ceste and I am a freelance journalist and communication expert. I specialize in content creation, press office, editing and web marketing services. I have collaborated with several national and local newspapers, press offices, web and communication agencies and publishing houses. I hold an MA in Foreign Languages and Literatures and I am fluent in English and Spanish, as well as Italian, my mother tongue. Writing is my long-time passion. Thanks to my versatility, curiosity and resourcefulness, I am able to craft content on a wide range of subjects, including sports, culture, tourism, history and religion.
