Showcase description

My name is Tania , I'm twenty and work full time as responsible for the daily editorial Notizie.it . I have experience in management of web portals , in writing SEO key's articles , using tools to monitor web organic and social traffic, creation of articles for content marketing activities and social media manager too. I worked as online columnist and have done stage experience for Class Editori with duties of a columnist for the print media and the tv news. I'd like to work in the world of information and creating content for the web but I'd like to experience in journalism or tv news too .
