It's a lab, always open to encounters, that realizes communication and film projects, as well as events and interventions to protect and develop the territory and enhance its creative resources. Within the creative exchange space of this project, graphic designers, photographers, filmmakers, illustrators, copywriters, web designers and musicians meet. ?Sensitive? communication Since 1998, Big Sur s. c. r. l. has been realizing graphic and publishing projects, and communication campaigns for organizations, institutions, companies, associations, theatres and film production companies. It produces documentary films and audio-video products, and creates and organizes cultural events, social communication campaigns and communication artifacts to enhance the creative resources of people in difficulty by creating opportunities for interaction and exchange of knowledge through workshops and training activities.
