Showcase description

I introduce myself, I'm Fabiola Patruno, I'm 25 and I was born and raised in Assago. I graduated in Communication and Society at the University of Milan and I currently work as a Social Media Creative at 77Agency. Communicating with creativity and imagination has always been my strong point. The Social world is the perfect place to express all my qualities, curiosities and concepts that I learned during my studies and that I keep improving every day. Personally, I consider myself a sunny, curious and ironic person. I like working in a team and working together to always achieve the goals.
