Showcase description

My name is Ramona Camuglia, I'm 25 years old and I'm a sicilian girl. My experiences in communication have turned to the fashion industry and I have a degree in Communication Sciences. Simultaneously with my studies, I had the pleasure of performing an internship within the atelier Marella Ferrera, in Catania; Here I was able to gain expertise with regard to the activity of a press office, relations with journalists, care of mailing lists and newsletters, presence on the major social media and the organization of events. I have a sociable, always open to dialogue and to new knowledge; easy to learn and are able to work in team. Last year I was communications manager of young designers of accessories made in an inner tube, managing the website and the blog (www.mariagualtieri.it), taking care of the calendar of events and sponsoring the brand on social channels (Facebook, Twitter, Instagram).
