Showcase description

Francesca de Gonda, 29 years old, creative. A degree in Visual Arts and some work experiences thanks to which I've developed different skills. From Design - Project Manager to planning - Producer, From the development of digital content - Art Director to Training - University Assistant. The picture is the central idea, to be understood in all its aspects. My Aim is to use my creative resources when developing new content and Answers about the story concept. The strength of the Image weaves customer relations and decrees laws. What I'd like to do is to use my technical and theoretical skills about it for working. From graphic design to production of events; from web to social; From communication and planning to training. I'm an eclectic and flexible worker perfect for the current work dynamics. The our is the creativity century and open-mindedness. It's necessary developing an overview to surviving.
