Showcase description

I'm 25, and as a young communication designer, my diversified background ranges from transmedial projects to graphic design, to video, branding and illustration. In my employment experiences I developed and realized a transmedia storytelling project ("Eroi?"-2015), focused on Zone 9, Milan, and a serie of cartoons for the online newspaper Greenews.info (2013). At the same time I have always made illustrations for passion. I'm currently looking for collaborations with dynamic communication design firms, to continue this path and to reach together new achievements.
