Showcase description

My name is Ilaria, I'm 29 and I am a graphic designer and communication advisor. I love simple and essential things, in life and at work. I'm curious and determined, solar and helpful to listening and comparing, constructive and pragmatic. "There's always something to learn" is my philosophy, so I often use my free time to keep me up to date. I love every part of my work: from brand identity to packaging, from publishing to social media marketing ... I like to be able to follow a whole project.
