Showcase description

Zer059 - Advertising, is an advertising agency formed by communication enthusiasts. We are a group of people from Modena based in Turin and Milan (still photographer // Still Life) with a common idea: to show our creativity by combining it with the needs of our customers, for which we care about the development of projects from the ideation to the final product. We deal with everything relating to the communication field, from the creation and registration of brands and logos to photography with digital processing, through typography and the design and realization of any advertising medium (brochures, brochures, posters ...).
