Showcase description

I gained a brief internship experience within the Probeat Agency operating in fashion, taking care of the online contents, the translations, the contents of the magazine, the photographs, the showroom. I have a good knowledge of Photoshop, Illustrator, Indesign, Premier Pro. I also attended a 2-month course in corporate storytelling at the university, where I learned the techniques of storytelling and visual storytelling that were fundamental for conveying the value of 'company. I have a university degree in humanities, I am getting a bachelor's degree in media languages. I am a gritty person, used to working in a team, with a strong capacity for problem solving and a strong creative vein. I love everything that means innovation and experimentation. I love reading and the new forms of technology applied to communication, especially in the Mobile and Digital fields. I love to photograph and then capture the moment as you can see from my personal site: https://amelioselene.wixsite.com/amelioselene I'm also passionate about video editing.
