Showcase description

I am a young, enterprising, curious and passionate graduate in Communication. The world of Fashion and Communication have always been my two greatest passions, I want these two passions to be my profession now. I was born abroad in Belgium, my mother tongue is Italian but I speak English, Spanish and French fluently. My mixed origins and foreign childhood are among the factors that have endowed me with an open mind, accustomed me to multiple points of view and submerged myself in rich in stimulus cultural environments. I really want to do, learn and put myself out there.
