Showcase description

I began my journey as a self-taught video producer in 2014, when it all started out as a hobby. Over the years, my passion and knowledge have grown to the point that I decided to make this hobby into a job. I have produced and edited videos that range from youtube style videos, to corporate videos, from interviews, to promotional clips. I use the Adobe Suite programs such as Premiere Pro and After Effects to edit my footage, and Lightroom and Photoshop to edit my photographs or produce other content such as thumbnails, when necessary. In addition to content creation, my other main job during the last few years has been organising fundraising activities for a non profit organisation in Italy while also managing their social media accounts.
