Showcase description

Enthusiastic content creator with significant work experience in internationally acclaimed media and entertainment companies. Thanks to my curiosity and sensitivity I'm a quick identifier of clients? needs and I work hard to provide prompt, innovative and effective solutions. Because of my background in animation, I'm a storyteller at heart. I constantly look for the best techniques to communicate and connect with different audiences. My competence in communication and content development is also backed by a bachelor?s degree in Science of Media and Communication, in addition to several certifications in digital marketing. Native Italian, I speak English more than fluently (having lived in the UK for over 14 years) and I?m currently learning Spanish. I'm motivated to learn and I'm eager to contribute to your success through the design of inspirational content.
