Showcase description

Hello, my name is Daniela Romagnoli, I live and work in Milan and I am... a good question. If my CV doesn't tell you what you can ask me, it's because there are many areas in which I can move: from a layout to the study of a logo, from an illustration to a strategy project, to everything that revolves in the world of communication, including digital. Someone suggested that I should not put the age, but I left it anyway. It seems to me a good indication of my professional experience, reliability and eclecticism. This is testified by the many projects I have followed, which I would be happy to show you in a video presentation.
