Showcase description

I have been working as a copywriter for many years. I operate as a freelancer with a VAT number. Currently, I am engaged as a freelance creative director for an international client with multiple brands. I have directed approximately 100 commercials, often serving as both director and creative lead. I am capable of managing a project from strategic concept to campaign execution, as well as any other ATL or BTL project. My speed and professionalism enable me to handle any type of project efficiently.
