I'm Vincenzo Checchia, 23 and I'm from Milan. I joined Sielte in 2021 and for two years I worked there as a Technical manager in the telecommunications industry. I had to manage technicians who go to customers' houses to fix problems with their internet equipments. In the 2023 summer I spent 3 months in New York, working for a Sicilian bottega that has its own e-commerce, I was in charge of the warehouse and products' delivery. Lastly I have just finished a master degree in communication, social media and digital marketing from Up level. I wanted to undertake this educational path from Up level because during these last years I got that I wanted to work in this industry and I am gifted in this kind of things, and then in my period in New York I made some videos educational videos about the city and culture I was in, my colleagues pushed me to take this path cause they are in this too. The professional figure I am aiming for is Social Media Manager but I'm interested to see the other communications figures too, because during my studies in Up level, my classmates and I had developed a project work for an ad campaign and we performed every role of a communication agency. In the years I have always worked in groups as a team leader or as a support figure, I'm ready to take up new challenges and to finish them before a deadline.
