Showcase description

I am Nancy Di Fenza, a graduate with a specialization in communication, with experience in managing social media profiles for fashion brands, e-commerce, and stores. I focus on creating content and managing platforms like Instagram, Facebook, TikTok, and LinkedIn, with an eye on trends and how they apply to different sectors I work in. Over the years, I have had the opportunity to work in various fields, including fashion, food, and home textiles. This has helped me develop a creative and strategic vision, adapting each communication plan to the specific target while keeping business goals in mind. I am organized, proactive, and always ready to learn and improve. I am passionate about social media and its evolution, and I am always looking for new strategies and creative solutions to achieve concrete results. My goal is to keep growing in the role of Social Media Manager and contribute to the success of brands and companies with my experience and enthusiasm.
