Showcase description

My name is Martina Messina and I am a freelancer based in Turin, specialising in SEO (technical and content), Google Ads campaigns and social media management. I have been working since 2021 with agencies and companies all over the country, always remotely. I welcome on-site meetings for specific activities or project start-ups, but my operational availability remains purely online. My portfolio includes a selection of recent projects developed for agencies and clients in different sectors (services, wellness, e-commerce, B2B, food). If you are looking for a reliable, autonomous and results-oriented freelancer, I would be happy to evaluate possible collaborations together.
