Showcase description

Hi, I'm Lisa Mognol I am 23 years old and I study Psychosocial Communication Sciences at the University of Milano-Bicocca. I am currently looking for a curricular internship (200 hours) to apply the skills I have acquired and grow professionally in the field of communication and design. I recently took part in an Erasmus program in Santander, Spain, which allowed me to develop cultural openness and the ability to work in international environments. My academic and personal background focuses on: Communication and social media Graphic design Digital storytelling I have completed projects that reflect my creative approach, attention to detail, and passion for aesthetics. You can view some of my work in my online portfolio: lisamognol.my.canva.site I am motivated, precise, and eager to learn, ready to contribute with enthusiasm and creativity to any communication or design project.
