Showcase description

I'm Diletta Cattan ? a curious mind with a passion for words, ideas and meaningful communication. I turn complex topics into clear, engaging stories, blending analytical thinking with creativity and a strong international background. My experience ranges from digital content and research to policy analysis and data-driven storytelling. I'm looking for a junior role where I can grow, experiment and contribute to impactful communication projects ? a place where creativity, clarity and purpose come together. I'm highly motivated to start working, learn fast and bring fresh energy to a dynamic, forward-looking team.
