Showcase description

I'm an Italian graphic artist and art director. I have bold creative skills both in print and web projects. My favorite fields are branding, because in designing a logo, everything is up to you; and web, because it is like a game in which I must find the trick to engage each browser. My strongest assets are logic and organisation. I am a pro-active and enthusiastic worker, both independently and as a member of a team. I have worked in small companies, and almost always on "below the line" projects, so you'll not find an "award section" on my CV yet, but I would be delighted to add it working with you. Italian good taste merely begins with food. Give me a try!
